Outstanding Sub-Specialty Breakout Sessions to be Presented at 11th AMWC

The 11th Armenian Medical World Congress (AMWC) will offer 170 engaging presentations covering numerous fields of medicine at the sub-specialty breakout sessions from July 3 to July 7, 2013 in Los Angeles.

"An exceptional group of local and international physicians of Armenian ancestry will showcase their expertise and research during the 11th Armenian Medical World Congress breakout sessions," states Manuel Momjian, MD, Chairman of the 11th AMWC Sub-Specialty Committee.

The concurrent breakout sessions will feature dynamic speakers and are designed specifically to meet the diverse needs of healthcare professionals attending the Congress. An array of disciplines covered during the sessions will include:

Cardiology
Dental
General Medicine / Alternative Therapy
General Surgery and Surgical Subspecialties
Health Projects
Hematology / Oncology
Infectious Diseases
Internal Medicine / Primary Care
Medical/Health Education
Men's Health/Urology
Mental Health
Neuroscience
Nursing
Nutrition
Orthopedics / Joint Diseases
Pain Management / Anesthesiology
Pediatrics
Pharmacy
Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery
Podiatry
Reproductive Medicine
Women's Health / Obstetrics and Gynecology

"There are so many great breakout sessions to choose from, I believe that many attendees will have a tough time committing to just one breakout session," remarks Dr.

Momjian. "California Licensed physicians will not want to miss out on the pain management CME lectures required for their Medical License renewal during the Pain Management breakout session."

Physicians, pharmacists, dental professionals and registered nurses attending the 11th AMWC will be eligible to receive continuing medical education credits.
