

The Recipient of AAMS 2018 President's Leadership Award

The 2018 AAMS President's Leadership Award is given to individuals whose contributions to medicine, the community, and their patients have been exemplary. Dr. Simon Keushkerian is an example of being a leader in the numerous facets he is involved in and commits his time to.

Volunteering to surgical mission work and devoted to serving indigent populations globally, alongside his busy surgical practice, Dr.

Keushkerian has aided numerous patients

Armenia (5x), Peru (3x), Philippines (3x), Malawi (1x), Zambia (1x). His next mission is in 2018 to Artsakh. He obtained his medical degree at American University of Beirut School of Medicine and completed his residency in General Surgery at the University of Kansas, with an additional sub-specialty fellowship in Peripheral Vascular Surgery. He is board certified by the American Board of Surgery and the American Board of Vascular Surgery. He has received numerous appointments including serving as Chair of Department of Surgery at Adventist Health-Glendale from 2000 - 2007; serving as the Chief of Staff for the years of 2012, 2013, and 2014. Dr. Keushkerian has also received numerous recognitions including physician of the year by Adventist Health - Glendale in 2015, and Hospital Hero in 2015. His passion for teaching medicine and surgery has allowed him to become an Associate Clinical Professor at Loma Linda University School of Medicine, where he trains residents in the Adventist Health residency program and also precepts medical students from Loma Linda University, Western University, and Midwestern University medical schools for surgery rotations. His dedication to his students has led him to be awarded educator of the year on numerous occasions. Dr. Keushkerian resides in Glendale with his wife, Dr. Tsovinar Tekkelian, and their twin daughters Mary and Rita.
