

President's Message

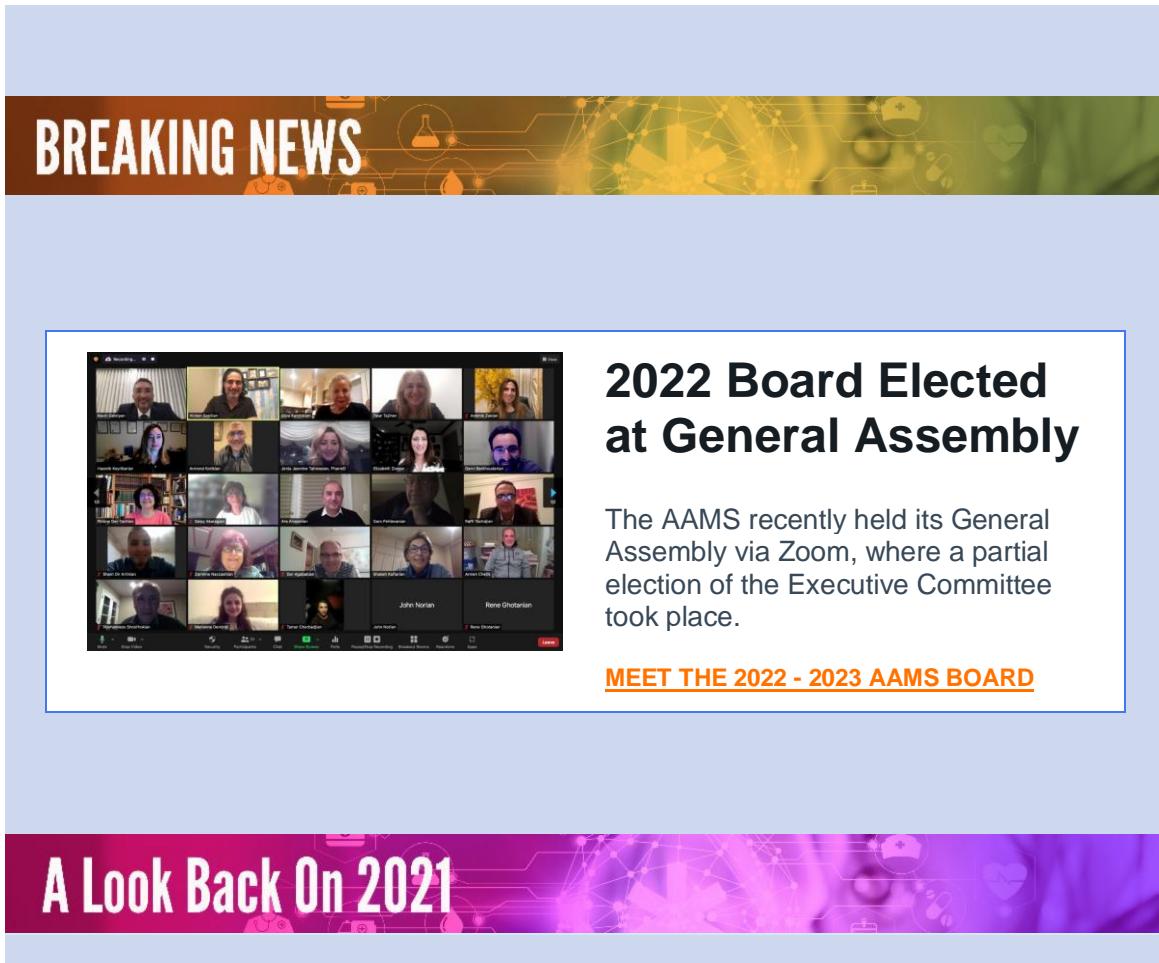

Garni Barkhoudarian, MD, FAANS

I am honored and humbled to be selected by my esteemed peers to be president of the Armenian American Medical Society. These past two years have been trying times for our members and our country, and yet the AAMS has persevered and accomplished much to help our homeland as well as our Diasporan members. Much of this is directly due to the generosity of our members who donated their funds and time to aid in these efforts. Many thanks to our outgoing AAMS board led by Dr. Kevin Galstyan for their tireless efforts during their term.

We will be continuing many of the valued projects of the AAMS (such as our mentorship program), expanding certain programs (including our Scholarship program), and creating new programs that will be rolled out over time. This is thanks to the decades of strong work that has been accomplished by this organization, allowing us to stand on the shoulders of giants before us. We look forward to engaging our membership and encouraging member volunteers to participate in these projects as we serve our colleagues and our community.

Message from Kevin Galstyan, MD, FACOG, Outgoing AAMS President

Dr. Galstyan reflects on his tenure as president—a tenure that included a pandemic and war—and enduring the power of the AAMS.
